This time Perrill took with him a dozen rifies, concealed in the bow of the whaleboat, in case of emergency. The whaleboat was rowed steadily toward the schooner, the excitement increasing as she approached. There were repeated cries of "Vive Colombia!" and there was a sudden concentration of 150 Colombian soldiers on the beach. For some moments the situation appeared dangerous and had the appearance of an ambuscade.

G ALVESTON (Tex.) Dec. 17.—(Exclusive Dispatch.] A man who says he is Charles Piersen, an erganiser for the Secialist Labor party, was arrested by the police tonight for attempting to deliver a speech in the street. He had gathered a crew of more than three hundred persons, and was denouncing the President and the government, and urging an uprising of the laboring classes, when the police placed him under arrest.

From man who came to his assistance at the Police Station, the department believes it has unearthed a great scheme of anarchists. Geveral Sicilians known to the police as amarchists avewed friendship for the man, and the police driendship for the man, and the police have obtained records and information of certain plots which they will not give out in detail. James was captured yesterday by a rancher named Berner, who has an out the interest of the Huachuca Mourtains and no far from San Pedro River. James has tarted out after the jall break in company with "Sailor" Brown. Wednesday morning, they were fired upon by two members of the posse under Deputy Sheriff Page, but both escaped into the brush along San Pedro River, where they were traveling on foot at the time. James became separated from Brown who, he believes, was struck by one of the bullets from the officers' rifles, as he cried out, and fell, but got up again and kept on running. After this narrow escape, James turned up Ramsey Cafion, and late in the afternoon, just after having waded the stream, he was seen by Berner, who had been told by members of the posse not to go about unarmed, and to be on the watch for the jail break.

ALVORD AND STILES FIEE. EL PASO (Tex.) TUCSON (Aria.) Dec. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Jack Virgin, who gave the slarm, was the last of twenty men to escape from the Tompstone jail Tuesday evening. He stated that the prisoners had been looking forward to this escape for several days. A nickel knife blade and pocket knife were used to saw the bars. A clamp, previously sprung, was cut and severed in about twenty minutes. The loosened bar was used to batter a hole in the wall. Water was used to loosen the mortar and deaden sound. Virgin informed Deputy McDonaid as soon as he escaped. "Sallor" Brown had friends and horses below town waiting. All of the fugitives were to pull for the Mexican line.

Sheriff Callaghan states that the jail was inadequate to the demands made upon it. Fifty-one prisoners were crowded into the space, with two men, paid 550 per month, to guard them. The jail is insecure.

No posse has been sent out from Tucson yet, but rangers and line riders all over the country have joined in the schrch. The feeling among the men is very bitter against Alvord and Stiles. BISBEE (Aris.) Dec. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] James seemed relieved when he was placed back in the Tombstone jail, and told the officials all he knew of the outbreak. Then men had no outside aid, he said, and only made the arrangements for the escape the day before it was carried out. There was no one on the outside implicated, according to his story, and he did not see any of the other desperadoes after they got a few miles out of Tombstone, where they separated. He knew nothing of the whereabouts of the others.

by refusing to give to that commission any indication as to its willingness to sell the concession or to fix a definite price.

"The result was," he continued, "to oblige the commission to report at the end of November, 1901, in favor of Nicaragua, while it was perfectly apparent that the sentiment of the commission was fixed in favor of Panama, and that the recommendation was due only to the impossibility of obtaining a satisfactory offer from the canal company."

Mr. Bunau-Varilia upheld President Roosevelt in all his acts, asserting that the Spooner act gave the President power to do all he had done, and quoted at length from Le Matin of Paris in support of his contention. He said that Colombia's course amounted to an attempt to blackmail. Summing up, he sai:

"All that can bring ill will, shame and contempt on a nation was carefully prepared by the Congress of Bogota between the middle of June and the end of October. They had insulted their protectors, the United States, in the most offensive way, by rejecting, without even the slightest hint of what they wanted, a treaty which was the most liberal that could be conceived and in which the United States had taken a position scarcely above that of a private commercial company. They insulted not only the United States by rejecting the treaty, but by preparing to sell them the property stolen from the French investors; they sacrificed to their bilind and passionate greed the very honor of their country by putting in their Parliamentary documents inventions which, if they were committed by individuals, would be misdemeanors or felonies under the law.

"When these accumulations of unjustifiable acts obliged the isthmus to revolt against the tyranny of Bogota and when the declaration of independence on the Ishmus was for the third and last time in history promulgated, after the movement of November 3, I can say that there has never been in the history of the world a revolution that was more justified than that one. It seems almost incredible to think that there ar

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The news from Los Angeles that Judge Trask in the Superior Court had refused to upfold the contracts between the orange growers and the Citrus Union has attracted wide attention in green fruit circles. There are many members of the trade who see in the decision the final breakdown of the union, and that growers who feel dissatisfied will feel at liberty to immediately withdraw and market their fruit through independent channels. Yesterday it was pointed out that the inability of dried fruit associations to enforce similar contracts proved the fatal source of weakness with these organizations. Private dispatches from California yesterday stated that Judge Trask did not hold the Citrus Union to be a combination in restraint of trade; he merely refers the case to a damage-claim and market their fruit through Independent channels. basis and refuses to grant an injunction restraining alleged violation of contracts.

How far the decision will affect the season that has just begun remains to be seen. At the present time the expectation is that California business will be handled through the same channel, entirely by auction, as list year. The refusal of the court to enforce by injunction the Citrus Union contracts will, it is claimed in local areen fruit circles, reduce the popertion of fruit the combination not expects to handle. Last year many cars of fruit sold for less than freight, and hundreds of cars brought growers into debt, the freight being 90 cents per box from California to points is the east, plus 25 cents per box if the fruit came in refrigerator cars. Contracts between the growers and the union this year were believed to be unassailable, and the new court decision, it is asserted, now places the grower in a position in which he can continue to send his freight through the union, if he sees fit, or can sell Mitchell is indicted for conspiracy to defraud the government by the sale of large quantities of postage stamps in order to increase the receipts of the office at Alma and thus succeed in raising the classification of the office and securing an inrease of salary. Three counts of $50 each are named in the indictment, one of them naming a State official as the purchaser.

The indictment against William M. Irwin charges him with acting as an agent for Mitchell, in which capacity, it is alleged, he swore to the vouchers for the sales of stamps, on which warrants were drawn.

ALLENTOWN (Pa.) Dec. 17.—The first suits brought in this State under the press law passed by the Legislature a year ago have been instituted against three newspapers here by a well-known banker of Northampton county. The action is based on the publication of a statement that the banker had last month escaped from a hotel under quarantins for small-pox. The man was believed to be in Allentown, and it was at the request of the local board of health that the publication was made.

The papers in describing the bankers, said he had dyed his beard. The subject of the article is 56 years old had recently married a young woman, and alleges that the statement about his beard caused him to be lidiculed by his friends.

RECIPROCITY BILL SIGNED.

WASHINGTON.

Proclamation of the President Gives Time It Takes Effect.

Favored-nation Clause Invoked for Other Foreign Sugars.

Senator Hoor Snubs Editor Scott, Gen. Black's Appointment.

INT THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M.1 WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—The President signed the Cuban Reciprocity Bill a few minutes before 1 o'clock this

Now that the bill has become a law, a question of great interest has arisen, namely, the effect of the reduction of the duty on Cuban sugar from other countries. The British government has served formal notice upon the State Department that under the "favored nation" clause, it expects that British sugar from the British West Indies shall be admitted into the United States on acquait terms with Cuban sugar, and en equal terms with Cuban sugar, and it is not doubted that Germany, France, Austria and the other great sugar-best producing countries will do likewise. An old holding of Atty.-Gen. Ol-msy under President Cleveland's ad-ministration was adverse to such demands, but the question promises to be reopened with vigor.

The bill was taken to the White House today by the chairman of the House Committee on Enrolled Bills. With the same gold pen with which the measure had been signed by Speaker Cannon and Senator Frye, president pro term of the Senate, the President pro term of the Senate, the President affixed his signature to the bill, thus making it a law. The pen belongs to Minister Quesada.

The President this afternoon issued a proclamation recting the passage of the Cuban reciprocity treaty and deviaring the Cuban reciprocity treaty to be effective ten days from today.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—The Senate today debated the isthmian canal question, as affected by the President's recognition of independence of the republic of Panama. The discussion began with a speech by Mr. Hoar on his resolution of inquiry, and lasted several hours. In addition to Mr. Hoar's address, there were speeches by Mr. Gorman and Mr. Foraker.

Mr. Hoar confined his remarks to his resolution, and they were read from manuscript. He held that this country had not yet received full information concerning the isthmian revolution, and adversely criticised the conduct of this country, as shown by what has been given out. He compared the conduct of the United States on the isthmian question to that of a policeman who would manuscle and hold a person to be robbed, and who would then insist on having the spoils of the theft delivared to himself.

Mr. Gorman's utterances alleged the estisation in Panama had been created to make a campaign issue, and charged Assistant Secretary of State Loomis with a violation of the proprieties in discussing the question at a banquet in New York. He also said that unless further light was thrown on the subject, he would oppose the Panama treaty. He referred to the action of the Executive, and declared that the Senate should prevent the jeopardising of the business interests of the country.

Mr. Foraker took Mr. Hoar to task severely for his remarks reflecting on the administration for its attitude toward the Panama revolit. A heated colloquy took place between Mr. Foraker and Mr. Hoar, during an effort of Mr. Hoar to explain more fully his position in the matter.

had known for years, came along.
Scott extended his hand to the Senator, and Mr. Hoar refused to accept it, becoming very red in the face and talking somewhat excitedly about a paragraph that appeared in the Orecomian some years ago, reflecting upon Senator Morrill of Vermont.
"I refuse," exclaimed Senator Hoar, "to shake hands with any man who would publish a paragraph like that."
Scott explained that he had never seen or heard about the paragraph quoted by Senator Hoar, but that he was perfectly willing to be held reeponsible for anything appearing in his paper.
"Then," said Senator Hoar, "I decline to shake hands with you."

"Then," said Senator Hoar, "I deeline to shake hands with you."
"In that case," said Scott, "I turn

Scott is here because he has been indorsed for a member of the Panama there was more excitement for Senator Hoar, later in the day, when he senator like Mr. Hoar, who, he said, was following many examples of courage, patriotism and disinterestedness in the Senate

Mr. Gorman said the facts were all that were desired, and he referred to the extension of the executive influence, saying that this influence had been extended until "the Senate had been extended until "the Senate had been extended until "the Senate had been practically the agent of the executive." He criticized the selection by the President of commissioners from the Senate to negotiate treaties as a reprehensible practice, and declared that the Associated Press secured its suggestions as to information about events from the administration. He also condemned executive interference in State politics. But none of these transgressions could be compared, he declared, to the action of the Executive in connection with the afrair in Panama.

"It is," he said, "the most flagrant act of transgression that has evertaken place in the history of the country and it should be resisted without regard to party."

Mr. Gorman adversely criticized the speech made by Assistant Secretary of State Loomis before the Quill Cl"b of New York, a few nights ago. He said that Mr. Loomis, while excited by wine, had "given information which the Senate had not had from the administration or from any other source. "He did not," Mr. Gorman continued, "tell the country all the facts, but he made the broad assertion that the President was a bold and great man, who had the country all the facts, but he made the broad hasertion that the President was a bold and great man, who had the country all the facts, but he made the broad hasertion that the President as a second "Napoleon."

"A second Napoleon, indeed," he exciained. "Has it come to this, that the United States must have a Napoleon to shape its destinies and to distort the Presidential office from its proper functions."

Here Mr. Aldrich asked Mr. Gorman whether it was the "purpose of the

Here Mr. Aldrich asked Mr. Gorman whether it was the "purpose of the reconstructed Democracy to defeat the After some pariey, Mr. Gorman exclaimed: "I say to the Senator from Ritode Island that if the case stands as it is now, with only the information the administration has furnished us to this hour, then we regard it as a most objectionable transaction. And let me say to the Senator, when you talk about responsibility, we can take the responsibility and say to the administration without regard to party, 'Congress has directed you to do one of two things,' to construct the canal and do it without delay; when yon cannot get it at Panama, go to Nicaragua and construct it there, and do it at once." Mr. Gorman continued: "Tet Mr. Loomis, in his speech, has the audacity to say the reason why they did not go to Nicaragua and attempted no negotiations with Costa Rica or Nicaragua, as provided by the Spoomer act. I was because eminent engineers have said that Nicaragua was not the proper route for the construction of the canal. That statement I challenge. It cannot be verified. But one member of the committee expressed a doubt as to the feasilibity of the Nicaraguan route.

*I'd on of desire to do the President of the United States any injustice. I respect the office. I believe that whoever occupies it ought to have fair consideration for the Senate of the United States when it comes to the consideration for treaties, for he cannot make one without its consent. When the attempt to deprive us of all the facts is made, I resent it. And it is not the first instance of such action and of dictating to Congress. I resent it, and I have resented it at the consideration for treaties, for he cannot make one without its consent. When the attempt to deprive us of all the facts is made, I resent it. And it is not the first instance of such action and of dictating to Congress. I resent it, and I have resented it at the consideration of treaties, for he cannot make one without fits consent. When the attempt to deprive us of all the facts is made, I resent it. And it is not the first instance of such action and of dictating to Congress.

which agreed that caucus action should be bisding, he knew that there would be trouble; that the Democrats would vote as a unit on every matter except when the vote interfered with individual conscience.

Mr. Foraker said he had felt no great surprise when the hat tack on the President had been made on the Demoratic side of the chamber, but that he had been shocked when the Senator from Massachusetts made the character of speech he did, and that the country would be equally surprised. He said Mr. Hoars speech should have been made in executive session, if at all. Mr. Foraker declared an attack had been made, not on the President alone, but on the eyes of the world were upon us.

"I have no doubt," said Mr. Foraker, "that the President acted with the loftlest of motives and the highest of ideals when he took the action he did in reference to the republic of Panama."

Mr. Foraker said he could think of terrupting, said: "The Senator from Ohio either wholly misunderstands what I said or wilfully perverts my meaning."

After a little further debate Mr. Hoar obtained the floor.

"My point is this," said Mr. Hoar.

"I say that the President has said to the public and to the Senate that he disclaims certain conduct as unworthy of him, and I called attention to the fact that the document which he sent in failed to make that clear by not distinctly disclaiming that he or the administration had notice of that revolution, or that our forces had prevented the lawful government from anticipating that outbreak that I pelieved from my knowledge of the President that his statement was actually true, and therefore I agreed him to supply the lacking information by stating on what ground the administration proceeded in taking the step. That is all. And I do not propose, after thirty-four years of service within these walls, to trouble myself to contradict again an imputation to me of any other meaning of indirectness or artifice on my part. If the Senator from Ohio chooses to charge me with it, of course I cannot help it. He will do his duty."

"I am delighted," retorted Mr. Foraker, "that the Senator from Massachusetts is not afraid of anybody. It made a speech. I am undertaking to make some answer to it.

"Now, the Fresident has said there was no conference, no intrigue. And yet the Senator from Massachusetts demands that the Fresident shall submit proof to him that he was telling the truth when he made the statement that he had not connived."

Mr. Foraker then proceeded to review in brief the history of the uprising on the isthmus, saying that the happenings there were common knowledge to all newspaper readers, and to all persons who had observed the fate of the canal treaty in the Colombian Congress and had any knowledge to all newspaper readers, and to all persons who had observed the fate of the canal treaty in the Colombian Congress and had any knowledge of human mature. Mr. Foraker said:

"No agent was sent to the Pre

The administration at Washington, he said, was not unmindful of the situation, "and the President took the steps indicated by the telegrams, and from which the Senator derives such from which the Senator derives such conclusions."

Mr. Hoar was on his feet again and interrupted: "I distinctly said that I had no criticism to make on that score, and that the little matter of time could not be at all affected by the time we took in the Civil War. I not only disclaim what the Senator imputes to me, but made what was the strongest argument I could think of, to show all concerned there was no criticism whatever proposed."
"I am glad the Senator has reconsidered and concluded to interrupt me again," remarked Mr. Foraker, amid the laughter of Senators.
"I made no statement," declared Mr. Hoar.

Hoar.

Mr. Foraker said. "Then I hope you will make it, and stick to it."

Mr. Hoar replied: "I thought the Senator was always 'delighted' to have me interrupt him."

"That is the way the Senator has always to get the better of his adversaries," remarked, Mr. Foraker.

"Tes, I shall always be glad to be interrupted by him. But I wish the Senator would tell me where I was."

Interrupted by him. But I wish the Senator would tell me where I was."
"I will tell him," declared Mr. Hoar, with a smile. "He was misstating one of my propositions."
"Well." retorted Mr. Foraker, amid general laughter, "that does not help me any. He has made so many of them I do not know which one it was."

Mr. Foraker concluded by saxing that there was no real ground for criticisms of the course of the administration in the Panama matter: not even that the Democrats might take advantage of it. He deplored the discussion of the matter in open session of the Senate, however.

Mr. Mitchell then made a speech in advocacy of the measure to aid the Lewis and Clarke Exposition at Portland. He said that if the United States could afford to contribute over $6,000,000 to the St. Louis Exposition, it could afford to give one-third of that amount to the Portland exhibition.

When the House convened otday the Speaker signed the bill carrying into effect the Cuban reciprocity treaty, using a gold pen provided by the Cuban Minister.

Objection was made to the present consideration of the bill permitting Phoenix, Tempe, and Mesa, Arla, to bond themselves for the construction of a wagon road from Phoenix to the side of the $3,000,000 dam to be constructed by the government for the Sait River Valley Irrigation reservoir.

Mr. Olmstead (Rep.) of Pennsylvania facetiously inquired if the proposition to dam Sait Creek had been submitted to the minority. Then the House went into committee of the whole to resume consideration of the Pensions Appropriation Bill.

Mr. Scott (Rep.) of Kansas reviewed the history of rural free delivery, showing the attitude of the Demoratic and Republican administrations toward the system, and contending that credit for its successful establishment is due the latter.

Mr. Miers (Dem.) of Indiana addressed himself to the Pension Appropriation Bill.

The Parama question was discussed by Mr. Sims (Dem.) of Tennessee, who took the ground that the consistent course to pursue was for the Democrate in the Senate to vote against the treaty. This, he said, would defeat it. in which event he believed the President would build the Nicaragua Canal.

Mr. Calderhead (Rep.) of Kansas, speaking on the Pension Appropriation Bill, advocated a service pension and appoke for the deserving veterana.

Mr. Burgess of Texas, taking the polley of "stand pat" for his text, denied that any measure of prosperity is due the Republican policy of protection. He denied that protection had increased the wages of labor. He understood the expression "stand pat" to have come from a Senator from Ohio, to whom he referred as the greatest player of American politics, but said he might not be termed "the suppressed possible President." He said the "stand pat" hand had been turned over to the New York man to play. After the election the hand would be called, and the Demograts would demand to see all the cards. He predicted that on one card would be found the "lows ides." on another "stand pat," and on another "Gen. Leonard Wood." When Mr. Burgess had concluded the committee rose and the pension bill passed without division.

NO PRE-JUDGING.

IBY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M. WASHINGTON, Dec. 17,-The Ser case of Gen. Wood will, it is expected, be an indorsement of the general's military and civil record in Cuba. The action of the committee was unanimous in deciding to close the introduction of testimony and take a vote January 4, although a few members of the committee were in favor of voting today and argued in favor of this course. It was declared that to vote today would lead to the inference on the part of the public that the case had been prejudged. It is said the unanimity of action in closing the inquiry does not have any direct bearing on the vote for confirmation.

Senator Scott made the protest against reporting on the nomination today, claiming that the committee, as jurors, should read and weight the evidense. He expressed the opinion that any attempt to "railroad the nomination through the committee and the Senate would confirm the opinion that the matter had been prejudged.

JUDGE SWAYNE'S CASE.

CHARGES HARD TO PROVE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON. Dec. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In preparation for its investigation into the official conduct of Judge Swayne of the Northern District of Florida, the House Judiciary Committee has communicated with the men instrumental in preparing the charges. The committee does not purpose to sit upon the case or take testimony until after the holiday recess, but the preliminary correspondence is intended to bring out who the necessary witnesses. are and where they may be reached. In an inquiry of this kind, it is usually necessary also to explain the precise nature of the investigation it is proposed to conduct.

The allegations made in the preamble of the Florida resolutions differ greatly in respect to the sort of testimony which will be necessary to substantiate them. The charge that Judge Swayne has resided outs.... of his district for the last ten years is a plain matter of fact. It is not so easy to decide whether "he is ignorant and incompetent," and whether "his judicial opinions do not command the respect or confidence of the people." PAYMENTS TO PRIARS.

FILIPINOS TO BE LANDENDLERS.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A M.1

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Gov. Taft has informed the War Department that an agreement has been reached for the sale of the friar lands. It is no contemplation to sell the lands for the benefit of the Filipinos themselves, for the money will go into their own treasury. Payment will be made by bonds either turned over directly to the friar or sold by the Philippine government at the best price obtainable, the proceeds being given to the orders. The lands are to be sold as far as possible to the tenants who live upon them now, and on long-time payments, at a very moderate rate of interest on the deferred payments. The main purpose is to create the streatest possible number of landlords of Filipinos for it is argued such a body would be a strong conservator of peace and do much to discourage future revolutionary movements.

The question of the withdrawal of the friars has, it is said at the War Department, practically settled itself. Of the governing body of friars in the islands at the outbreak of the war, only 200 are said to have remained, and nearly all of these are at Manila. Even if a few remain, it is felt that their power to further embarrans the future relations of the government and people in the Philippines has disaweared. It is not doubted that the President and Secretary Root will approve Gov. Taft's arrangements, particularly as the people of the United States are not to be charged with any money required to buy the friar lands.

"Mexico and the Mexicans"-our SPECIAL MEXICAN NUMBER (to be printed in English,) will appear to-morrow (Saturday.) The republic of Mexico is yearly coming more and more into world-wide prominence, and this publication tells the true story of her remarkable growth and velopment along the lines of industry, commerce, mining, railroading and manufactures—an advance that has largely taken place under the wise and patriotic rule of that great man, President Diaz, during the past on their system of coercion, not caring that the real sufferers are the innocent citizens, and now I notice that the City Attorney's office asks the public to have patience for a few days longer until the city can compel the companies either to sprinkle or "stop running their cars." What a happy solution! To walk!! Half the people are coughing and sneezing, influenza and bronchitis are prevalent, and we are asked to have patience. Let the legal fight be carried on with sprinkled streets. Tourists visiting us duing the dust plague will never care to return to have their eyes destroyed, their throats and lungs irritated by such germ-laden dust.

I wish to say a few words about the babies' discomfort. If the little darlings could only speak. Did the thought ever occur to the parents of the innocents, (as it has to me.) when I see them being whirled along in the so-called go-carts surrounded by pedestrians passing and repassing and the dust rising and settling in their little throats And what makes it more sad is that their own mothers raise the most dust with their unbecoming and germ-gathering skirts, which raise more dust than the "White Brigade" in our city. Hoping these few lines will set some of the mothers and fathers thinking, I say from the bottom of my heart, "Let the go-cart go."

TWO FATAL BULLETS.

Within twenty feet of the door to the room the hall takes a turn to the right, and at the corner of this hall cover as signed by Wiedenasmuch as it did not see him as he passed, but followed Murphy, firing shot after shot. Before he had gone twenty feet from the corner of the hallway Murphy confronted him and ordered him to halt, at the same time covering him with the same time covering him with which went wild, and an instant later Cowen from the rear and Murphy from the front, fired at the desperate young man. He thew up his hands, turned two and mentioned at at Twenty-seventh rearrangement and keep at Twenty-seventh relarred that the field could be found use as South Hill could not give the lold the officer hall way he placed five new cartifages, and developments showed that when he was waiting in his resolver being tightly grasped in his hand.

COWEN'S STATEMENT.

The story of the shooting as told by the efficers and borne out by eye-witnesses leads to the conclusion that they acted in self-defense.

"Had we not been warned that we had a bad man to deal with," said Detective Cowen after the tragedy. "I think it is certain that two of us or possibly all of us would have been killed. When we went into the room together we saw the old man sitting on the bed. The reason we went in together was that we wanted to take no chances. We did not expect a shooting, but having been warned we were prepared for anything he might do. We thought that when he saw that there were three of us he would yield at once and not try to put up a fight. At sight of us he grabbed for his gun. I saw the srabbed toward his right side, but he srabbed toward his right side, having probably forgotten where he had laid the weapon. Had he secured that revolver there might have been a different story. Just as he did so he said something to his son, whom we had not seen, and the young man at once began shooting. Then the father, despite the fact that he was covered with our weapons, made a motion as if to draw another revolver, and I fired at him. All this time the son was shooting at us, and how we escaped I cannot understand because we were crowded in the doorway. I did not shoot to kill, but I was afraid the father would get a weapon and try to kill all of us. Whed the son continued firing we retreated. We could have advanced into the room and doubtless would have got the son after a fight, but it would have meant that one of us would have been killed and we backed out, hoping to be able to take him by other means except shooting him.

REGRETS THE TRAGEDY.

"We placed ourselves along the halland shooting as he came. He probably did not see me, and as he passed me I started to seize him, but just at that moment Murphy, who was beyond me, turned and covered him. He called for him to halt, but instead the young man shot at him and was in the act of shooting when both of us fired. I do not know whether it was my shot which struck him or not, but I fired only in defense of my own and Murphy's lives. I cannot express in words how much I regret this tragedy, but it was a question of their lives or ours, and there was nothing else which we could do."

MURPHY TELLS OF FIGHT. Detective Murphy made practically the same statement. As to the fight in the hallway with the younger Choisin the hallway with the younger Choisser, he said:

"I had hoped to take the young man without shooting, but inasmuch as he was firing shot after shot at us, I had drawn my revolver and was ready, but I did not want to use it. As he turned down the hallway I called upon him to halt shod covered him with my gun. He then fired again at me at very close range. I do not understand how he missed me, and was in the act of shooting again when I shot at him. I fired only one shot and I do not know whether the shot took effect."

Detective Hawley did not witness the killing of the youn-man. He was at the other end of the hall, having sone that way in order to intercept him if he attempted to escape in that direction. It was Hawley, however, who was in greatest danger in the room, for he was in front when the son began shooting. He did not draw his revolver at any time during the fight, but he had the elder Choisser's gun in his hand. All of the weapons used were 38-caliber revolvers.

PREPARED FOR BATTLE.

PREPARED FOR BATTLE. detectives were looking for them, and that they had deliberately planned to take human life before they would submit to arrest. In the room after the shooting several boxes of cararidges were found, and two extra revolvers were also discovered, making four which the two men had in their possession.

four which the two men had in their possession.

They did not wait for the officers to announce their business before they resorted to weapons. The first action of the father was to seize what he supposed was his revolver, but he had left it lying at his left side in plain view while on his other side was his vest. He did not say a word, and the instant he made a motion toward his gun, the son began shooting. That the two men were desperate is shown by the actions of the son. He was under 25 years of age, but despite the fact that he had three men to deal with, he followed them into the hallway and died before he would surrender, although he must have realized the hopelessness of his fight against such odds. The father appeared to be a man of about 50 years of age. Nothing is known about them by the officers here, and a telegram sent to Illinois last night asking for information concerning them has not been answered.

The Coroner's inquest will be held this afternoon at 5 o'clock at Bresse Bros.' undertaking establishment. There is no doubt that the officers will be cleared of all blame.

PREAK OF THE ELEMENTS NEVER BEFORE RECORDED.

Liner Was Passing Through Snowstorm When Thunderbolt Descended, Shattering Mainmast and Sending Dining Passengers in Panic to Their Staterooms.

IBY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES. NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The steamship Teutonic of the White Star line arrived today. a bolt of lightning during a snow-storm, a freak of the elements not cers at once notified police headquar-ters and other officers were sent to the scene. Deputy Coroner Summerfield was soon on the scene and by his order the bodies were removed to Bresse Bros'. undertaking establishment. McKinstry said that all the way across the ship fought heavy westerl

"Just before dinner Sunday." he "Just before dinner Sunday," he said, "when the storm was heaviest and while the vessel was passing through a heavy snowstorm, the heavens seemed to split wide open and give forth a bolt of lightning, the thunder of which shook the Teutonic as though she had lost her propeller. The bolt struck the mainmast, wrecked the truck, and sent the splintered and shattered mast down the Bros'. undertaking establishment. There an examination revealed that the elder Choisser had been shot but once, the bullet passing through his body from left to right. The body of the son showed three bullet holes. One of the bullets had struck him directly above the heart and passed through above the heart and passed through above the heart and passed through coming out under the left shoulder blade. The other entered at the left of blade is the propeller. The bolt struck the mainmast, wrecked the truck, and sent the splin-tered and shattered mast down the skylight into the main cabin, where the heart, which organ it had penetrated. Either of the wounds would have been sufficient to produce death. It is beside the passengers were preparing to take their seats for dinner.

The question as to whether the Franciscans, Dominicans, Augustinians and

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) That James J. Jeffries and Jack Munroe will soon be matched to fight for the heavyweight championship of the world is now the opinion among sporting men here. Steps looking to that end will be taken this week, when Tim Coffroth, the matchmaker for the Yosemite Athletic Club of San Francisco, who is now in town, will meet Joe Egan, the champion's representative, to talk over terms for a match.

sentative, to talk over terms for a match.

Coffroth is anxious to get the hout for his club. Munroe has been eager for a try at the title-holder for months, and now Jeffries himself says that he is willing to fight the miner boxer.

Jeffries, when told today that Coffroth had announced his intention of trying to frame the match, said:

"I stand ready to listen to any reasonable proposition that Coffroth may make. Munroe's decisive victory over Limerick proves that the miner is something of a fighter. It has boosted his stock a lot, and a match between us is far from unlikely.

"Just when we will meet I cannot now say. I have theatrical engagements extending over the winter, but I am free to fight in the spring. I am in tip-top condition, and could be ready for a fight in short order.

"Of course," continued the champion, "I shall want to see Munroe put away, a couple of real good men before we meet, but from his battle the other might, I am only too glad to fight him, to wipe out that little Butte story, but I want him to demonstrate his ability fully, so that the match will draw well."

HANLON WANTS NEW REFEREE.

(BY DIRECT WIS.. TO THE TIMES.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 17.—(Exclu-SAN.FRANCISCO, Dec. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It is given out semi-officially that Eddie Hanlon will not agree to Eddie Graney as referee of the coming fight with "Young Corbett." With Hanlon it is a case of "anybody but Graney." In the last tight between Hanlon and the champion, Graney declared it a draw, which decision was well received by the public. Eddie thought he was entitled to Eddie thought he was entitled to decision, which would have given in the championship, and there were my who agreed with him. There was no question but what he gave the champion one of the hardest battles of his life, but Graney did not see where he had sufficient advantage to entitle him to the decision. Corbett has always been an admirer of Graney's work, but just how he will take Hanlon's decision remains to be seen.

Hanlon is also jealous of Graney's admiration of Jimmy Britt, and he has said recently that Graney will favor any Olympic Club man, but will always give the worst of a deal to a fighter from "south of the Slot," which means the tenement quarter below Market street, where Hanlon halls from.

WALTER CAMP SEES FINISH.

IBT DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

NEW HAVEN (Ct.) Dec. II.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) This year has seen the last of light half-backs, says Walter Camp, Yale's athlete director and football head coach. In a letter to the Yale alumni weekly he says:

"The effect of the new rule of only three men back of the line upon the make-up of teams has been such as to practically bar out still further light, active men from any possibility of making a team. No stronger aggregation of light back field to play behind could be found than Yale's rush line, and if anyone with knowledge and skill coming over from the previous year could have afforded to try the experiment, Yale could, and she tried it. Her first string of backs, and the ones who played practically all the games, averaged less than 165 pounds. "It is well knewn that on defensive play this combination works with the end, so that in defence it is easy to see that on one end Capt. Rafferty of Yale had himself, weighing 184, and Mitchell, weighing a scant 160, with which to meet everything that came around on the outside tackle."

MORLEY ALREADY AFTER SOME.

Manager Morely of the Los Angeles ball team came downtown yesterday morning and soon ascertained to his ball players had jumped out of city or had even threatened to.

terrible wounds. Both he and Sties, together with Bravo Juan, broke out of the same Tombstone jail, wounding Jailor Bravin while escaping. The trio spent the next few months in Mexico. Stiles surrendered, with the understanding that he would turn State's evidence. He did some good for the prosecution, but latterly has refused to give further evidence. Alvord tried of Mexico and sought to gain lenlency in the Arisona courts by assisting Capt. Burt Mossman of the Arisona Rangers in the capture of Chacon, the bloody Mexican desperado, lately hanged in Graham county for his many crimes. Alvord has been considered a sort of pro forma prisoner of late, as trial juries have failed to convict him of the Territorial statute crime of train robbery, which has a possible penalty attached of death. Till last week he was beid in prison at Phoenix. Finally, late last week, he was convicted in the United States Court of robbery of the mails on plea of guilty, and was sentenced to two years of confinement in the Territorial Fenitentiary. He was held in Tombstone only as a witness in the Stiles case. There has been much legal quibbling in the Stiles case, mainly because his attorneys claimed that the government had violated its agreement to release him in recognition of his services for the prosecution in the several Fairbanks and Cochise trainrobbing cases. Testimony from a number of grand jurors developed the fact that Stiles had been of little usand had refused to answer questions. He had been six times indicted. Finally, on motion of Stiles's attorney, Frank L. Doan, son of the presiding District Judge, change of venue was ordered to the Third District, Phoenix, trial to be in April.

Cochise county has become one of the most turbulent in the Territory, and in the jail at the time of the break were thirty other criminals, held mainly for felony. Only the prompt return of the guards prevented a general clearing out.

Then the editor girded on artillery and bearded Hogue in his lair, incidentally decanading payment of a-bill, as well as personal satisfaction. In this round Dorr took decision for points. Arturo M. E'las. heretofore Vice-Consul at Solomonville, has been apnointed Mexican Consul at Tucson despite his American cluserable. Senor Elias gained high praise for his actions at Morence last summer, where he assisted the civil and military authoritial affectively in securing order in that wildly-excited camp. The final determination of the Mexican miners to no lonser ally themselves with the Italian and Slavonian rioters came about mainly through Mr. Ellas's efforts.

N. W. Cummings, an old resident of Nogales, died in that city Tuesday. He was an Arizona pioneer and had filled a number of offices of public trust.

the American Club, and it was immediately accepted. The board of management had not considered the charges against Barlow's drunken conduct on the club premises on the night of December 11, but Barlow anticipated all action by resigning. Gentlemen who saw the acts complained of in the club charges will reach Washington today on purpose to stop off there and represent the case to Secretary Hay. The Mexican Herald this morning vigorously scored Barlow and urged him to resign his official position because of his unbecoming conduct. Flat-footedly Barlow refused to be interviewed. He said: "I have nothing to say." One of his friends said Barlow intended to fight the entire matter. His official record is clear and clean.

Barlow was appointed by President McKinley and has brought up the consular office to a high degree of efficiency. The Herald declined to push the matter, as it claims that the conduct of the Consul-General is a disgrace to the American government.

CHARGES AGAINST HIM SUSTAINED BY BOARD OF EDUCATION.

eclared to Have Used Palse and Offensive Language and to Have Displayed Disloyal Spirit - Van Deveer Says He Will Take Matter Into Courts.

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 17.—The County Board of Education, before whom the charges preferred by Dr. J. S. Larsalere against Prof. J. L. Van Deveer, principal of the Escondido school, were heard, has returned its verdici, and finds that Prof. Van Deveer has used false and offensive language against the educational authorities of the county. That has hear made used false and offensive language against the educational authorities of the county; that he has made unwarranted charges of deception against a fellow teacher; that in his statement that he will fight the County Board of Education, he displays a spirit of disloyalty and rebellion dangerous to the welfare of any school his which he may be engaged to teach. The board also finds him guilty of unprofessional conduct, and orders the suspension of his certificate to teach. Van Deveer says he will take the matter into the courts.

Prof. Baldwin, County Superintendent of Schools, has decided that he will not ask for any of the 3800 appropriated by the Supervisors for the county exhibit at the World's Fair. He thinks the amount none too large for the general exhibit. The amount which might be spared for the ducational exhibit would not be large enough to make a showing. The District Attorney has decided that the County Board of Education, in fact any of the school officers, cannot make uses of the money set aside for the support of the schools. The only hope is to get a slice of the general appropriations which will necessarity be Permanent Receivership of Shipbuilding Trust Brings Out Kinks. (BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M.) NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—The hear-ing on the application to make perma-nent the receivership of the United States Shipbullding company was resumed tousy, Charles Steele, a member of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., being on the witness stand for a short examination as to the connection of that hirm with the promotion of the shipbullding company and the sale to it or the Bethiehem steel plant. Steele said the purchase of the Bethiehem plant was made in order that the steel corporation might be able to control the disposal of the Bethiehem plant, its permanent ownership being considered disadvantageous to the steel corporation, and the desire being to result it to owners favorable to the steel company, though no special purchaser was in view at this time. He professed himself ignorant of the competitive or noncompetitive status of the Bethiehem or carnege armor plants, the steel syndicate, and testined that he accepted Schwab's opinion of the value of the plant and had taken the contract for the purchase of the stock at the price Schwab had agreed to pay the original owners, the understanding being that Schwab should share any profits at the resale of the plant. Steele said that at the time he considered the shippard proposition a good one, and its stock a good investment, expecting the common stock to earn dividends from the start, and for that reason he believed that the $5,00,000 in stock embraced in the purchase price was an adequate return for the interest and profits on the Morgan investment of $7,246,000 for the year.

After the recess Steele continued his testimony about the sale of the Bethiehem piant to Nixon and Dresser.

Untermeyer asked what reason there was that Schwab, owning no Bethlehem stock at the time of its settlement, to which Steele replied that it was in consideration for the risk Schwab assumed in making the contract for the purchase of Bethlehem stock, which was immediately assigned to Morgan in the purchase of Bethlehem stock, which was immediately assigned to Morgan in the purchase of Bethlehem stock, which was immediately assigned to Morgan in the purchase of Bethlehem stock, which was imme services over the remains of their late brother, James C. Castruccio, who died from pneumonia Tuesday. Services were held at the family residence, No. 18th Santee street, and Rev. Will A. Knighten officiated and pronounced the sulogy on the deceased brother.

The pall bearers were from the lodge, of which Mr. Castruccio had been a member, and the honorary pall bearers were the five foreign consuls who are located here, Messrs. Valla Bellgrano, Nebbia, Fontanal, H. T. Gage and Frank Randisi.

A delegation from the Chamber of Commerce was composed of Messrs. A. W. Skinner, A. C. Harper, Joseph Mesmer and L. Kimble.

Mr. Castruccio was 50 years of age, and for twenty-eight years had been in business in this city, most of this time on North Main street, where he succeeded to the business of his elder brother. He was a Mystic Shriner and a Scottish Rite Mason. For many years he was president of the Italian Benevolent Society, and he was largely interested in charitable work. The society was in attendance at yesterday's services.

For several years past Mr. Castruccio has been the Italian Vice-Consulin Les Angeles, having been a regularly-commissioned official for the past three years, although for fifteen years before that he had been in such service without holding the official tille. The body was placed in the receiving yout at Rosedale Cemetry, and interment will be given it later.

Sew Yorker Handed Over to Smeoth-tengued Hobbs a Few Thomand, With More to Come.

187 THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.1

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Frank S. Hobbs of Idaho is now in Ludlow-street jail on an order of arrest obtained by Edward B. Tustin, treasurer of the Grene Copper Company, who says he advanced $1500 to Hobbs with which to develop gold mining property. Tustin brought suit when an agent sold him that the supposed mine was not as represented, and that Hobbs did not own it. Tustin then at once applied for an order of arrest on the ground that Hobbs was about to leave the city. The prisoner was held in default of $7500 ball.

Hobbs, it is alleged, repdesented that with little difficulty he took out $160,000 worth of ore from the property controlled by the so-called Comstock Mines Company. Tustin finally consented to furnish $20,000, and actually advanced, $7500. According to the report of an expert who later went to Idaho, he found the land to be in possession of C. X. A. L. Whyland, who, according to the records, had staked it out six months before Hobbs

Unique Offering of Three Hundred Dollars to President Gates of Pomona College-Large Attendance at Banquet in Pirst Congregational

"Southern California, the newest New England," was the keynote of the splendid address delivered by Rev. George E. Soper, D.D., of Pomona, at the Forefathers' Day banquet held last night under the auspices of the Congre-gational Union of Los Angeles in the banquet hall of the First Congrega-tional Church.

gational Church.

"New England is no longer the home of the pligrim," said he. "It is invaded by other people. It is controlled by foreigners.

"But here, in beautiful Southern California, is to be a new trial of the great principles of the forefathers. Here we have the purest native stock. From States far removed they have come here to shape a new civilisation. "With college and figh School and common school and with a people broadened by their transplanting why should we not build a new civilisation that shall surpass the old?"

"Trust in God" the speaker declared to be the great message of the pilgrims to us.

The Forefathers' Day celebration last night was considered by many the most successful event of its kind the union has 'ever held, fully three hundred persons taking part in the festivities.

Suffered for Number of Years.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

INDIANAPOLIS (Ind.) Dec. 17.—A special to the News from New York says that Gen. Lew Wallace is in this city, under the care of an eminent specialist. He is taking X-ray treatment for a cancerous condition of the nose, and if this treatment is not successful he may submit to an operation. He has suffered from this allment for a number of years. It has not affected his general health. For several years he has gone periodically to Cincinnati for treatment, and for months at a time has tried the X-rays at that place, seemingity with success in arresting the progress of the diseas. It is understood that his trip to New York was taken at the earnest solicitation of his family and near friends.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Gen. Lew Wallace of Indiana, who arrived on Wednesday with his son, denied today all reports to the effect that he was to undergo an operation of any sort.

August Leppert, liquor dealer, has been playing in hard luck and yesterday fled his petition in bankruptcy in the United States District Court. The showing made in the schedule filed was rather unusual in that while the unsecured claims amounted to $1917, there were no assets, no books, papers or anything else to show how matters stand. The petitioner alleges that he has no property save the suit of clothing which he stands in, which is valued at $10 and is claimed as exempt from execution.

Growing Religious Tolerance.

A striking evidence of a lessening of stress in contemporaneous religious thought was shown in the unexampled interest and sympathy of the Protestant world in the recent death-scene in the Vatican. For a while, at least, it was almost as if the Scarlet Woman had been relegated to the realm of nursery bugaboos. Yet, of course, the incident was not a step of Protestantism toward Rome, but a new and important indication of a general change of conditions—of a new world-atmosphere in the domain of religion. People read the newspipers, looked about them, and suddenly realized that religious intolerance had greatly weakened its hold upon mankind.—[Century Magazine. Growing Religious Tolerance.

TYPHOID FEVER CURE.

Serum Imported from Europe Effeeting Wonderful Results in New York Jewish Hospital.

IBT THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M.1 NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Remarkable cures of typhoid-fever patients are re-ported by Beth-Israel Hospital, where cures of typhoid-fever patients are reported by Beth-Israel Hospital, where a serum imported from Italy and Switzerland is being used. Although the remedy has been in use more than three months, it has just been made public. In that time thirty cases have been treated at the hospital, which is in the most crowded quarter of the East Side. Not one of the patients died, and in some instances improvements set in before the fever had run more than half its regular course. The improvement was invariably permanent, and many patients were dismissed from the hospital from two to three weeks before the usual time. A small quantity of the lymph is injected into the body three times a day, sometimes in the breast. The operation is of the simplest, and practically painless. The injections are followed by regular treatment for reducing the temperature, careful diet and nursing.

Physicians in charge of the institution refuse to discuss the matter fully, pending the preparation of a detailed report on each case, for the use of the medical profession. They admit the successful use of the new serum, but maintain that the treatment is still in its experimental stage.

EXPANSION OF

Latest Additions.

Relief for Congestion at Hand In Few Buildings.

Small Lot Ready for Occupance After the Holidays.

This afternoon the city schools will close for the holiday vacation. When they resume the general condition of crowded rooms and half-day sessions will be partly relieved by the placing in use of four of the new additions built out of the school bond funds. They will make room for about 1000 months.

These additions are shown in the group herewith, and they will be furnished during the holidays, so that they will be in perfect readiness the first week in January. The furnishings are here and some of them are already placed.

These additions were formally accepted by the Board of Education this street School property and using the proceeds for school building in territory now whout school facilities is discussed freely, and many are declaring themselves in favor of the move.

Several sections of the city are importuning the Board of Education for new schools, but probably the one that has the largest population without adquate facilities is the Woodlawn meighborhood. Residents there, backed by the Magie-Avenue and South Mam-Street Improvement Associations are urging upon the board the purchase of a site for a school at Hain and Fortleth streets.

It is seldom that the United States District Court sits as an Admiralty Court, and a trial that began yesterday is only an indication of a new variety of cases that will become increasingly numerous when the harbor improvements at San Pedro are completed. The case on trial is brought by Michael Eastes, of Port Townsend, to recover $15,000 from the Paulife Shipping Company for having salvaged the schooner Bangor and her cargo of lumber.

The addition to the Fremont-avenue School has six rooms, and it has been in temporary use the past week. Each room is calculated to accommodate forty-eight pupils, so that here piaces will be made for almost 300. For several weeks past a school has been maintained for the overflow in the basement of the Friends Church, Tiffrestreet and Fremont avenue.

The East Side is included in this first relief, and at the Griffin-avenue School a four-room addition is ready; while at the Avenue 21 School, formerly the Chestnut-street building, the old part has been raised and a six-room addition built under. These two sidditions provide for 500 East Side pupils.

The Thirty-inin-street School, here were independent of the armony school, is increased by four riser rooms, and is now a twelve-room building, ready to house 500 children.

The complete of poral-option election have always one religiously followed and would only be disregarded at political perfit to the Supervisors.

The temperance people claim that leng ago a quiet tip was given to the Supervisors that a lique's license would in time be asked for at Ascot Park. At any rate, many weeks ago, a new district was created out of a side of Piorence and a side of Hyde Park. The new precinct was called Green Meadows. It is the shape of a dry-goods box with an alarming and excessive protuberance, like the trunk of an elephant. Ascot Park is at the tip of the trunk.

Now the Supervisors cannot truthfully say whether Green Meadows, the new district, is a wet or dry precinct. Of course it was not a district at the time of the local-option election and has never put the question to a vote. The Supervisors have just as much right to assume that it will be wet as dry.

Wherefore the chance is that Ascot Park will be booseful.

Attorney Hahn who represents the Anti-saloon League, said yesterday: "If the Supervisors do not know whether the Green Meadows district is opposed to liquer or not, and do not know how the people in the district would vote if they had a chance at the local option question, they will not linger long in ignorance. We have some protests in preparation that will, I think, establish that matter."

FROM CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

From the Chamber of Commerce came the following communication:

"At the regular meeting of the board of directora this afternoon we were trained to call your attention to the deplorable condition of the streets of the city, in consequence of the lack of proper sprinkling, and ask your honorable body to take immediate steps to relieve the situation. The tourist cases is just opening up and the arstvals are daily on the increase. To have our city so imbedded in flying dust and dirt makes it anything but complimentary to our representations of being a delightful and healthful city to live in.

"You no doubt appreciate our efforts in endeavoring to encourage tourist travel, and can readily see the position we are compelled to assume when confronted with the complaint that is daily brought before us of the awful dust the visitor is compelled to encourage immediately to have the streets properly sprinkled, and arrange with the railway companies to reimburseyon for the expense incurred, provided the courts decide in favor of the city. We most earnestly implore, you to take some radical action to relieve the present situation."

The communication was signed by F. W. Braun, vice-president, and Frank Wiggins, secretary of the chamber of Commerce.

City Attorney Mathews is reluctant, however, to make a moot case against the railway company. He believes that the majority of the people of the city are heartily in accord with the movement io make the companies do a share of the street sprinklint. If the dust nuisance continues the railway companies will be anxious to risks the court instead of fillustering for singly nonths, as is usual in such cases.

LIBRARY DIRECTORS REPORT.

In the report of the Board of Library Directors filed yesterday a plea is made for a larger tax levy. The amount of funds received by the library during the fiscal year was $52,483.99, or only $2650.59 more than for the preceding year. In the mean time the circulation of the library increased by $48,662 volumes. The report says:

"We consider the work of the library one of the most important in the city and we trust that next year we may receive a substantial increase in the amount set aside for it, as we have under consideration many betterments in accessions and services that can only be carried out by an increased appropriation."

Resarding the work of the librarian, Miss Mary L. Jones, the board says:

"The faithful services of our librarian merit the highest commendation, and she has been ably seconded by her assistants and members of the staff."

In conclusion the board calls to the attention of the Council the imperative necessity of immediately taking steps to provide new library quarters. The report continues:

"We feel justified in promising to the citizens of Los Angeles that during the coming year such action will be taken as will give them the apportunity of showing their appreciation of the work done by the public library and their desire to give it the necessary building and other accessories."

The committee also will recommend that an assessment of $5 be levied on each Councilman for the benefit of the Salvation Army Christmas dinner. Summeriand was appointed the custodian of the fund. It developed at the session yesterday that the janitor at the Police Station is still drawing pay, athough two members of the police force were advanced $15 a month each with the understanding that they would do the janitor work.

PRISONER WAS BORED.

The only prisoner who ever had the nerve to grow absent-minded during one of Judge Smith's famous curtain lectures, was sent to State's Prison yesterday.

He was a pasty-faced boy named Roy Scatighini, who stole a trunk belonging to Anna F. Standiford from the Arcade Depot, where he was forwarrly employed.

Scatighini has only been out of Whittier since January on parole; he was sent to the Referm School in 1899 from Hanford for burglary He learned a good trade—electrical engineering—in whittier, but liked thieving better.

The judge was just telling of his opinion of any boy who would take a good education at the expense of the State and go-back to crime. After telling him he deserved twenty years, and so on, the court said: "Do you, think now that you can be a good citizen when you get out?"

Holy horror! The boy did not reply. His mind was far away in gentle rumination. He came to with a start. "How that?" he said.

"Well, it don't seam to have impressed you much," remarked the court, grimly.

However, the youth only got two years in San Quentin.

THE OIL INDUSTRY. ORK STARTED ON

CING ESTABLISHMENT SEVENTH IN KERN RIVER.

Reported Strike in New Well in Me-Kittrick Pield-Arenta Company in Great Luck Out Between Midway and Sunset.

James Campbell, superintendent of the King Refising Company, who is superintending the construction of the new plant for the California-Kern Company on the former property of the Grace on 3, 29, 28 at Kern River, has completed the purchase of supplies in this city, and returned to Bakersfield. This work is being pushed rapidly forward every day. The foundation work is now completed and the boilers are to be installed shortly. Barring the usual delays in getting material the plant should be ready for operation in a few months.

This will be the seventh plant to be completed in the Kern River field. The others being the Union, King, Clark, Vulcan, Southwestern and Eastern Consolidated. The last two are just nearing completion. The Vulcan is not operating at present. There are three others projected, including the great plant to be built by the Standard. When the Pacific Refinery west of Bakersfield and the Consolidated California Oil Fields Company's plant at sunset are counted it will be seen that there are no less than eight refineries in the country completed or afmost completed. This gives an idea of the great extent of the refining industry in Kern county.

The land is outside the proven belt at McKittrick, and if oil proves to be in paying quantities it means that the territory where oil can be found is much wider than supposed. Much secrecy is being observed about the find. The news is the source of much gossip among the oil men as much of the adjoining land is owned by Los Angeles men. The Sea Breeze is close to located near Grant's Pass. Or., have been purchased by S. A. Vance of this city. This property is one of the largest and richest placer mines of the Southern Oregon mineral fields, and has produced handsomely for nearly fifty years. The new owner will greatly enlarge the plant of the property and shape it for work on a much more extensive scale. The property consists of 1400 acres, nearly half of which is operating ground and old channel, carrying gold. There are three long ditches and a water supply for seven to nine months each season.

Mr. Vance is having the property reequipped under the supervision of W. E. Olmstead. Two glants will be operated, and an electric lighting plant and telephone system will be installed, as well as a hydraulic elevator to better care for the tailings. The mines will be operated night and day. This past season over $5000 in coarse gold and dust were gathered up from one sluicebox of this mine.

NEVADA-KEYSTONE GOLD.
Carl Schrader, general manager of the Nevada-Keystone Mining Company, left last evening for the company's property in Southern Nevada. The property is said to be in excellent condition, and the record of production since the mill was started up September 13, shows the following:
Mill bar No. 14, 12 days of September, value 4468.55; mill bars Nos. 15 and 16, for October, values 32625.98 and 34139.15, respectively: mill bars Nos. 17 and 18, for November, values 34539.42 and 35182.82, respectively.
It is expected that the mine will produce between $14,000 and $15,000 during the present month.

Behind every successful career is the will power that saves money.

Behind every successful career is the Savings Bank link in the chain of success.

Call to mind all the successful men you ever knew and you will not find a spendthrift among them.

Successful careers are made up of things done today. The person who always defers until tomorrow can hardly expect to accomplish very much along any line of human endeavor.

d at the Union Bank of Savings now, Today, may not make of you a Carnegie or a Rockefeller, but it will give you a fair start toward success, and that is all either of these men had in the beginning.

As the New Year dawns and you look forward to greater achievements, a Savings account should have your first consideration.

BLOCKING WAY OF JUSTICE?

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
RIVERSIDE, Dec. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The political situation has become somewhat strained during the past twenty-four hours, accentuated by the report in today's Times relative to the appointment of an assistant to Dist.-Atty. Evans. Public clamor against apparent "ring" combinations was so strong at the time the grand jury convened, that it felt the appointment of a deputy to be imperative. The impression prevailed that the man chosen would determine the nature of the investigation. The unanimous selection of Attorney Gill by the grand Jury inspired general confidence, as Mr. Gill is one of the best criminal lawyers in this section, has been District Attorney, is an artist at cross-exami-(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) Attorney, is an artist at cross-exami-nation, and is absolutely unincumbered in a political sense. This morning when it became known that Gill had been it became known that Gill had been turned down and a youthful pleader substituted, the protest became general. On every hand it is openly charged that those in authority, instead of doing all in their power to uphold the law and purge the community of "grafters," are in every way blocking honest investigation. One indignant citizen, who is willing to take the responsibility of his words, said:
"If Dist.-Atty. Evans turns Gill down, it will convince two-thirds of

are not other reasons than the technical one mentioned.

Mr. Carmahan is an excellent young man who has a good standing among the young attorneys of the city, but he is without large experience in his profession, and without any special qualifications for this particular appointment. Moreover, he has been more or cless identified with influences which would undoubtedly be opposed to any searching investigation of county affairs.

RIVERSIDE, Dec. 17.

Lyman Evans, Esq., District Attorney.

Dear Sir: In reply to your request that I accept an appointment as one of your deputies to aid in the investigation, by the present grand jury, of the charges of "grafting" in this county, and to interrogate a part of the witnesses upon that subject, I will say that I will accept such appointment and attend upon the grand jury for such purpose; provided, I can have the direction and control of the whole investigation, subject, of course, to the orders of the grand jury.

Regarding your suggestion that you take me with you before the grand jury in company with yourself or another deputy, as I consider such course dangerous to the validity of an indictment.

CHICAGO. Dec. 17.—Wheat opened firm in sampathy with a similar feeling reported from:
Liverpool. Some emphasis was added by small receipts in the Northwest. The farmon and the foreign market was partly due to bad weather reports from Argentins, but a cablegram to a Chicago commission firm from Rosario said that the weather was improving and that little damage had been done to the wheat crop. At the same tigas, the big bull interest here manifested a tendency to dispose of holdings. As a result of the combination of circumstances, a good deal of long wheat came out and an easier tone devolped. SAN BERNADINO, Dec. 17—A buildag prevented an attempted burglary of the residence of Mrs. Robert Brazelton last night by giving battle to the thieves. Mrs. Brazelton and her young sister, Gladys, were alone in the house at the time, with the exception of the dog. They heard thieves trying to force an entrance into the house, and knowing the pluck of the dog. Mrs. Brazleton placed the animal in the hall leading to the front door, which was open. There was only a screen door between the dog and the porch where the two men were indistinctly seen between the dog and the porch where the two men were indistinctly seen The dog no sooner fastened his eyes upon the prowlers than he made a leap through the screen, and with another leap was clinging to one of the men, tearing viciously at his vest, having a grip just below the man's face. After beating the unimal's head almost to a pulp, and slashing it open with a knife, the dog was given a blow which rendered it unconscious, and the men escaped. The dog will recover.

Dollinger, in which the defendant, a druggist, is charged with selling intoxicants contrary to a prohibition ordinance, was tried today before Recorder Harvey Potter. and was as amusing as a monkey show. For some time it has been known that Dollinger was dishing up the booze, and the frozen manner in which it was done was a continual worry to the officials. In order to get evidence, Detective E. A. Weaver of Los Angeles was engaged, and Sunday, November 29, he was served with a bottle of beer in the saloon attachment Dollinger maintained back of the prescription case. Dollinger's arrest followed, and yesterday he was represented by Attorney Gill, City Attorney Purington appearing for the people.

resented by Attorney Gill, City Attorney Purington appearing for the people.

The evidence was all in so quickly the defense found themselves unprepared to proceed, but after a recess of half an hour, Attorney Gill produced Dr. G. G. Kyle, and offered him as a witness for the defense. Through the use of drugs the doctor has become partially paralyzed, and his appearance did not help Dollinger's case, A prescription was offered in evidence, dated November 29, giving to E. A. Wenver "one bottles of whisky and a half-dozen bottles of beer." There was no mention of the dozen or swore he had written this prescription at the request of Dollinger, and that it had been filed at the Sun Drug Store. But the amusing part of the whole situation was that Dr. Kyle had never seen Weaver, and that it had been filed at the Sun Drug Store. But the amusing part of the whole situation was that Dr. Kyle had never seen Weaver, and the latter had never asked for a prescription. Out of the kindness of his heart. Dollinger had bridged the difficulty. Another peculiar feature was the fact that in looking over the prescription file, as directed by the ordinance. Officer Wilson did not come in contact with the Weaver prescription. Dollinger's solemn affirmation that he had never soled liquor without first the property going into receiver's hands.

Our Well-Fed Sailors.

The navy ration is, of course, provided for by law, and the daily diet of the enlisted men must conform, in some degree, to this prescribed régime; but infinite is the variety, and ample is the dietary realm of Jack the Sailor. As compared with the daily bill of fare of the workingman on shore, the olds are greatly in favor of the sailor. Should he be inclined to grumble at his daily fare, it must be from caprice of appetite; for what laboring man enjoys better and more wholesome food? His food must be well cooked, for no had cooks are allowed in the navy. Where a cook is incompetent he is reported, for Jack Tar's stemach must be kept in a healthy condition, if our mips are to be manned with a study lot of sailors. His food must be of the best quality, for it is no secret that Uncle Sam demands the best article in the market, and gets it.—[Gunion's Magazine.

As Bad as Their Name.

Small Louise lived on the river abore, where fresh fish and ugity, bluegreen crabs were caught every day. Many a time had she watched Aunty Chloe and her daughter, Lily Bell, in the process of deviled crab making, but had never known whence came the name. One day, however, having puzsied her little brain over the question and found no answer to the riddle, she ran to Aunty Chloe to see if she could solve the mystery.

"Is debil crabs made out ub de debil?"

"Naw, honey, chile, dey ain," replied the old colored woman, "but lemme tole you, dey am de debil to make."—[New York Times.

ONE LONE BIDDER FOR LONG BEACH PIER BONDS.

S. A. KEAN OF CHICAGO WILLING TO TAKE THEM AT PAR.

Action on Bid is Deferred-Pacific Electric Gets Right of Way Across Park and Line to River Can Now

LONG BEACH, Dec. 17.—When the City Trustees met in special session this afternoon to open the bids on the $100,000 of whart bonds, it was found that only one bid had been received. It was from S. A. Kean of Chicago and offered par for the bonds, the city allow him one-half of 1 per cent. Give the expense of getting them out. His communication will be considered by the Board of Public Works, and reported back next Monday night. In the meantime the matter will be taken out with W. 8. Melick, secretary of his State Board of Fushine worker. In Boutling St. W.C. A. Tousing Women's Christian association will be considered by the Board of Public Works, and reported back next Monday night. In the meantime the matter will be taken out with W. 8. Melick, secretary of his State Board of Rxaminers. He failed to get his notification in time to-appear today. There are some irregularities low, so there is no disposition on his part of the Trustees to accept his bid.

Timely Talk on Holiday Buying.

There are but a few days left in which to complete your purchases for Christmas, and naturally in these last few days you are going to be very much perturbed as to just what to buy. Now is when we can show our good feeling by placing before you a list of merchandise, all rightly priced, and including an almost limitless assortment of goods which are acceptable and suitable as Christmas presents. Let us, nowever, suggest that you do as much of your trading in the morning as possible to avoid the congested store conditions of the afternoon. The store is thoroughly heated at all hours, and shopping at Hamburger's is a comfort. Also any package which you may have to mall can be sent from Station C, a fully equipped U. S. Post Office, which is a part of this great building.
